

355 Old Pacific Highway Swansea, NSW

Beautifully private brick & tile home, fresh interior, generous renovated open

What a fantastically affordable opportunity to get into leafy lakeside Swansea, coming from the country the current owners jumped on this home because of its not "typical suburbia feel" and its proximity to the bush, The Lake, supermarkets, shops, services and great beaches, offering so much more than meets the eye, a drive by just won't tell the full story, you really need to get inside to appreciate the volume and freshly renovated interior and how this home knocks others out of the park, from its superbly private set back from the road position to its lovely North East facing sunny in winter and breezy in summer magic open and covered outdoor living with no lawn to mow. The freshly painted, newly carpeted very open plan, light and airy interior with generous bedrooms is beautifully hidden from the road, spacious open style front living flows to open plan rear family living and beyond to a brilliant big rear living room with outlook to a delicious covered and screened in perfect
