If privacy and a peaceful bush setting is what you yearn for and the idea of buying brand new does appeal, then look no further! Just completed and ready for its lucky new owners to be the first occupants is this wonderful home on a generous, fully landscaped block backing directly onto bushland for a truly wonderful bush vista.

The design has been well thought out with many intelligent features. Four bedrooms are complimented by the genuine possibility to create a fifth. There are three internal living areas, with the main a centralized HUB for the family to gather and entertain, then a generous media room ideal for parents to retreat to and finally, a utility room well-positioned amongst bedrooms two, three and four making for the perfect place for the younger generation to have their tv and/or go device-crazy.
